

ArtRabbit

News and Opportunities

24 June 2020

LA Art Pick of the Week

Rachel Hayes's exhibition Land Lines at Lowell Ryan Projects is a formally elegant and beautiful installation consisting of twelve fabric banners that are suspended from the gallery's twelve-foot high ceiling gracefully brushing against the concrete floor. The hanging banners become a maze through which viewers can wander.